ATION

Always, from the first days of the Republic, the black soldier has fought away from home for the freedom denied him at home. At the back of his mind there has always been the vain hope that America would recognize his bravery away from home by recognizing him as a man at home. Black soldiers and sailors have written their names in the annals of American History by fighting on the battlefields of almost all the American battles. Yet, the black soldier is still without the praise and privileges he should have and should be receiving. He is now taking a look at the history of the Negro soldier and is begging for an answer to the question Negro soldiers have repeatedly asked themselves--"When will true freedom come?"

"HI!"

INTRODUCTION

"There's a school in every city, that is worthy of love and of praise. It's the joy of the whole population, and for it we shall strive all our days. In England, France, and sunny Italy, there's a famous school upon each hill; But my heart has a thrill for a dearer one still, that affection no other can win.

To those of us enrolled at Saint Paul's College these words express our sincere feelings. Yes, just as all other institutions, "S.P.C." has its faults but those faults are overshadowed by the family atmosphere which is manifested.

As we, the Seniors, recapitulate the events; the people, and the impact on our lives, we readily realize that Saint Paul's College has not only prepared us to adjust to the academic and business world but it has also emphasized love for our fellowman, love for our race, love for God, and a love for succeeding. Whatever impression we make on the world is not only ours, but Saint Paul's and our families.

When we think of the many hours of classes, the football and basketball games, the many nights of study and worry, the dances and concerts, the evening on the campus with a sweetheart, and the many hours in the library, we know that we are ready for the challenges which lie ahead of us. This is the purpose of Saint Paul's; This is Saint Paul's College."

THIS IS SAINT PAUL'S . . .

SCHOOL HISTORY

SAINT PAUL'S COLLEGE HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Infinitesimal in number, as compared to the humanity they serve, are the salient figures of history. One such figure was James Solomon Russell, founder and first Principal of the then Saint Paul's Normal and Industrial School.

The newly ordained deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church arrived in Lawrenceville, in Brunswick County, Virginia, March 16, 1882. Here he found a small group of Negro communicants in St Andrews Church, and organized them into a congregation. By February, 1883, the first St. Paul's Chapel had been constructed and was ready for occupancy. Immediately a parochial school was organized in the Vestry room of this small frame chapel. Soon these quarters of the parochial school became too small for the increasing enrollment, and a three-room frame structure was built with funds contributed by the Reverend James Saul of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

On September 24, 1888, with fewer than a dozen students, the Saint Paul's Normal and Industrial School was started in the building known as the Saul Building. More students came, as word about the school traveled. The members increased to such an extent that the Founder, the Reverend James Solomon Russell, realized the need for a program of expansion and development.

By an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, on March 4, 1890, the school was incorporated as the Saint Paul's Normal and Industrial School, and by that name it was given a perpetual succession and a common seal.

On March 11, 1907, Saint Paul's became an affiliate of the American Church Institute for Negroes, an agency of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

The department of teacher training was accredited by the Virginia State Board of Education in 1926. As a result of this development, a large percentage of the teachers in the elementary and secondary schools of Virginia and the neighboring states of North Carolina and Maryland are graduates of Saint Paul's.

In 1928, the founder, the Venerable James Solomon Russell, archdeacon in the Diocese of Southern Virginia, retired with the title of Principal-Emeritus. His son, the Reverend Dr. J. Alvin Russell, was elected his successor and continued the work in the faith of the Founder. On December 30, 1941, the charter was amended and the name of the institution was changed to Saint Paul's Polytechnic Institute. Authority to grant degrees based on a four year program gave to the institution opportunity for increased usefulness. At this time also, the chief administrator, Dr. J. Alvin Russell, was named the first President of the institution and served until his retirement in 1950.

In the spring of 1950, Dr. Earl H. McClenney was elected president and became the third chief administrator. During the administration of Dr. McClenney, many notable improvements have been made. As a result, the College has been admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the United Negro College Fund, and the Association of Episcopal Colleges.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees held on February 27, 1957, a decision to change the name of the institution from Saint Paul's Polytechnic Institute to Saint Paul's College was reached. The Trustees also approved the reorganization of the curricula to include courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees.

The College places strong emphasis upon building Christian character. By formal resolution of the Board of Trustees, the College is open to students and teachers of all denominations and races. Many religious faiths are represented among its students and faculty.

Saint Paul's is a member of Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association, and since 1923 has been represented in all major contests in the field of athletics.

From the beginning, Saint Paul's has played an important part in the life of the community. In its early years the school supplied ice for the Southern Railroad, operating between Danville and Norfolk, Virginia, and supplied water and electricity for the town of Lawrenceville. Today, many buildings stand in Lawrenceville and Southside Virginia as mute testimonies to the industrial activity of Saint Paul's trade students.

The history of Saint Paul's College and its development are reflected in the basic aims and the philosophy of the college as it stands today. The achievements of its graduates, throughout the world, give evidence of the zeal, sacrifice, and educational foresight which have characterized its workers and leaders through the years.

Edmund Henley

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

Fellow Students:

The years here at Saint Paul's have been dynamic, in that, we have seen changes which many before us had never thought possible. In their letters to you, they will tell you of the many glories of S.P.C.; Yet, I am charging you with the duty of remaining as dynamic in the future as you have been in the past. As "black" people we must always be aware of our position in this nation or any nation. Saint Paul's has helped us to formulate standards by which we must live. It is these standards which we should never sacrifice for material gain or fame in this cruel world, because throughout history one can site instances where men have achieved greatness in a material sense only to be surpassed by another. However, few are those men of high conviction that have been surpassed. Their torches have been picked up by another and carried on thru the annals. Their stories are told in the Iliad and Odessey, Kubla Kahn, and the songs of Solomon.

The words of our "Alma Mater" provide a fitting conclusion:

"She has faults, but why should we mind them, . . . And I'd sooner next fall go back to Saint Paul's than to any old school that I know."

The 1969 Graduating Class
Saint Paul's College
Lawrenceville, Virginia

My dear Seniors:

Each year for the past nineteen years it has been my privilege to present to the members of the class to be graduated a brief statement to be included in the Yearbook. As I reflect on the past nineteen years, I think of the many, many changes that have occurred here at the College: change of name, program changes, faculty improvements, new buildings, integrated faculty and student body, accreditation and membership in the Southern Association, membership in the United Negro College Fund, membership in the Association of Episcopal Colleges, and many other changes and developments as important as some of those mentioned. There has been no change, however, on the part of the College in its religious commitment and in its efforts to pursue academic excellence; there will be no such changes under my administration.

You who are graduating this year are classified by many as the "New Breed." I do not accept this description. As for me, you are young men and women going out into the larger world with a questioning mind and an unwillingness to accept things as they are. You leave this College, I hope, with a tenacious desire to help make the world the kind of world it ought to be. You are not afraid. You are proud. You are not second class. You are the hope and builders of tomorrow. And for this I am proud, more than ever, to congratulate you and wish you success. As you leave do not forget Saint Paul's College; it is your Alma Mater.

Best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Earl H. McClenney
President

PRESIDENT

New Addition to the McClenny Family

Mr. President:

There is no organization, club, or school that can perform to its full capacity without the support and guidance of good leaders. It is for this reason that the Seniors of 1969 wish to thank you, your faculty, and staff.

During our tenure at Saint Paul's College we have seen changes in both the academic and social atmospheres. This can only be attributed to the conscientious working toward the objectives which you have established during the years of your administration.

The founder, James Solomon Russell, had a vision and through a "journey in faith" founded Saint Paul's. It is through your visions and endless efforts that Saint Paul's has continued to grow.

As we prepare to leave, we must recapitulate the past four years and in so doing we find it quite necessary to say thank you.

CLASS

It is often said that, "You have to start at the bottom in order to get to the top." It is also generally considered that the freshman is the bottom man at any college. Yet the class of '72 has exemplified that they are more than capable of accepting the challenges placed before them. Gone are the days of initiation, gone are the days of orientation, gone are the fears of leaving home, and gone are the questionable moments of adjusting. Now, the freshman class is moving up the ladder to the ultimate goal of all classes.

Of all the classes now present at Saint Paul's College, the Sophomore Class is probably the most outstanding. They have passed the freshman year of confusion and have diligently worked to become an integral part of the College. Perhaps the most significant contribution the sophomore class has made has been the fresh approaches and the endless efforts toward erradicating the problems which confronted them during their first two years at the College. With a minimum of "dwindling" this class could become one of the strongest classes to graduate from Saint Paul's.

The Student-Faculty Association is composed of the students and faculty of the College. The responsibility for the administration of this organization is in the hands of a representative body known as the Student-Faculty Council.

The Association was established to develop a cooperative spirit between the faculty and the students and to promote the social well-being of the Saint Paul's Family.

S.N.E.A.

Purpose

To acquaint future teachers with the history ethics and program of the teaching profession; to give practical experiences in working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession; and to develop high standards of character and of scholarship in those students who are interested in teaching as a career.

The Marie Jane McNeil Library Club was organized with three main purposes in mind. These purposes were to motivate reading, acquaint students with educational programs, and to encourage effective use of the library and its resources.

THE COLLEGE CHOIRS

The major musical organization at the college is the Saint Paul's Choral Society which is comprised of four separate but related organizations; the Chapel Choir, the Men's Choir, the Women's Choir, and the A Cappella Choir. These organizations from nuclei on which foundations are laid to enhance the appreciation for music and to undergird the development of the college's music program.

The A Cappella Choir, essentially the concert choir, takes pride in its national reputation and in its role as a representative on the United Negro College Fund nationwide broadcasts. Officially one of the College's major Public Relations media, it has drawn the plaudits of music critics in the North, South, and East.

Dramatics
The S. Randolph Edmonds Players' Guild offers students the opportunity to develop their interests in dramatics. Membership is open to all students who may be interested in dramatic activity.

There is a little Ham in all of us. Right Ruby?

Delta Psi Omega

Delta Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatics fraternity. Its purpose is to provide recognition for students who, through active participation, have demonstrated exceptional ability in the field of dramatics. Membership is open to both men and women.

ALPHA KAPPA MU-WHO'S WHO

Alpha Kappa Mu, a national honor society, was founded in 1937, and is a member of the association of college honor societies. The founder, Dr. George W. Gare once stated: "Alpha Kappa Mu was conceived as an organization of men and women of superior abilities who would be so organized that their mutual efforts might be coordinated and stimulated." Election to membership in Alpha Pi Chapter is the highest scholastic honor on Saint Paul's Campus.

The present member is: Geneva Robinson.

FOOTBALL AT SAINT PAUL'S, SEASON OF 1968

In like a lion and out like a lamb. That was the Tigers' football season in the autumn of 1968.

The fall sport began with a roar, when Saint Paul's College squared off against Gallaudet College of Washington, D.C., in the Capital, winning 9 to 0. Charlie Johnson, fullback, tallied a touchdown and Lawrence "Tank" Bellamy booted a 26-yard field goal. Elo Gaskins and "Red" Harmon stood out defensively.

After that the fall afternoons grew grayer and darker for the gridders. In succession the Tigers lost to Howard, 9 to 0; Fayetteville, 12 to 0; Delaware, 25 to 0; Elizabeth City, 40 to 0; Livingstone 10 to 8; Winston-Salem, 18 to 15; and Shaw 12 to 0.

Nevertheless, Coach Tom Morris, Assistant Coach O. G. Walker, and Athletic Director Joseph E. Thompson never lost heart, considering the season a time of building. As the saying goes, wait until next year! Those numerous freshmen will be sophomores and "bloodied" in battle.

BASKETBALL

Tigers Take Fayetteville, Union, and State

The fired-up Tigers managed to fight off a last minute rally by Fayetteville State College to avenge an earlier loss to the pesky Broncos. The Tigers finished the game with all five starters in double figures. Final score Tigers 96, Fayetteville 94. Arthur Wynder led the victors in scoring with 26 points followed by Alton Darden and Mike Green with 25 and 22 points, Roger Henry and Roy Gross pumped in 13 and 10 points respectively.

Fayetteville dominated the first half and managed to hold on to a two point margin at intermission. The Tigers picked up momentum in the second half on baskets by Wynder and Green, added by the near perfect foul shooting of Darden. The Broncos stayed in the contest mainly because of the 19 point effort of Monroe. At one point in the half the Tigers had a nine point advantage but stubborn Fayetteville refused to give up the game without putting up a fight. The lead finally faded away but we Tigers had the clock on their side.

In other games during the past two weeks the Tigers exploded for 76 points in the second half to defeat Mike Davis and company of Virginia Union. Mike Davis' 59 points in the game were overshadowed by the dramatic and controversial ending of the contest. The game appeared to be over before Mike Green scored the tying points at the end of regulation play, but the officials signaled the basket good and the game went into its first overtime. At the end of regulation play the score was 82 all.

With the score 96-94 Union managed to tie the game to send it into its second overtime. This was the second incident in which a judgement call by the officials could have ended the game. The question was whether or not the Union player was fouled making the lay-up. Nevertheless, no foul was called and the Tigers went on to win the game 111-101. Mike Green was the leading scorer with 30 points, followed by Roy Gross and Alton Darden with 16 and 14 points respectively.

The Tigers had very little trouble with State in the first half of their game. The Tigers established a sixteen point lead at half-time on baskets by Wynder and Green with 16 and 10 points respectively.

The going in the second half was not so easy, as Roach and Wilson provided a good one, two punch for State, scoring 16 and 13 points in the half. The Tigers lead was cut to two points, with 3 minutes left in the contest, before they managed to pull away and win the game 100-92. While stalling for time in the final minute Roger "Tricky" Henry showed a stunned and perplexed State how to handle the ball. With the score 98-92, Mike Green was fouled; it was a one and one situation. Mike made the first basket, held up one finger to signify only one more point was needed to reach a hundred, and calmly made the basket.

Tigers trip Trojan five by 100-92

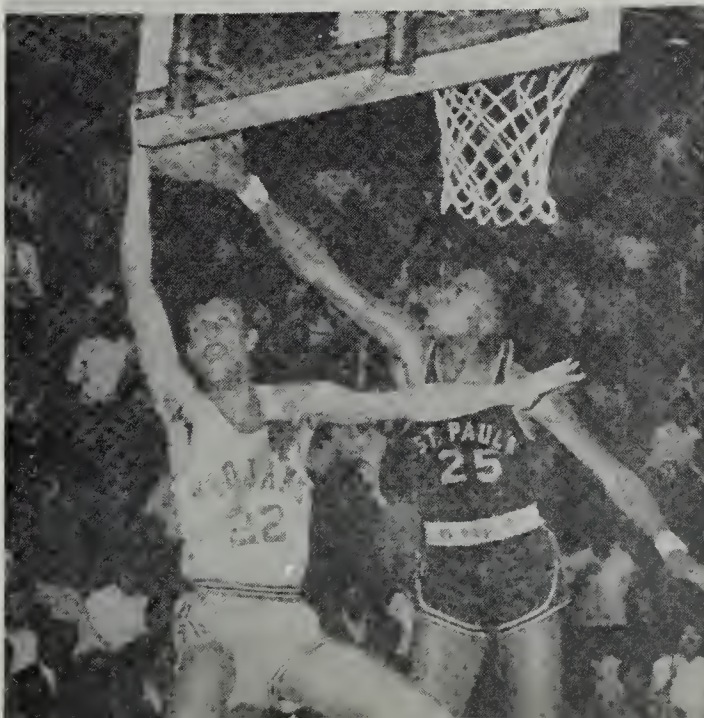

By Staff Writer

The Virginia State Trojans are averaging six points a game less than they are giving up, and last Saturday wasn't much different.

The Trojans lost to Saint Paul's by eight, 100-92, but despite the little difference in their offensive and defensive averages the loss was the 13th in 14 games for the Trojans.

SAINT PAUL'S picked up its 15th win in 18 games. The Tigers were led by Mike Green with 29 points. Green, a freshman, leads the Tigers 20.6 average. Alton Darden (18.2), Arthur Wynder (17.5) and Roy Gross (11.3) have been providing the balanced scoring for the Tigers.

Virginia State's Reginald Roach leads the team in scoring with an 18.3 average and ranks 10th in the CIAA in rebound average (14.1).

AMAZING SAINT PAUL'S CAGERS--SEASON'S TEAM OF DESTINY

With its best basketball record to date in recent memory, a 16--4 overall and a 14--4 CIAA (Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association) showing, Saint Paul's College has an excellent chance to make the conference tournament and fittingly climax a remarkable season.

It's a team of destiny and its supporters, with some justification, are quite convinced.

Moreover, its young coach, Tom Morris, an alumnus, is already the subject of considerable speculation--some published--that he may be the CIAA's choice as "coach of the year." Now in his third year of coaching basketball and football, the Newport News, Va., native and his amazing athletes have within the past two weeks won for their school six major contests and face only two additional rivals.

The toughest obstacle, Norfolk (Va.) State College, at this writing, even minus two stars were 14--2 overall and 12--2 in the CIAA. They were ranked (Dickinson Rating System) fourth in the 18-member league, with a 20.00 average; Saint Paul's was next with a CIAA Dickinson rating of 19.69.

In its six most recent games, Saint Paul's has won over Morgan State, 72--68; Fayetteville State, 96--94; Virginia Union, 101--111 (a double-overtime thriller in which Union's great Mike Davis scored 59 points in defeat); and Delaware State 100--92; while losing to Fayetteville, 90--87, and Delaware State, 100--87. Its two other defeats were by Maryland State, 90--73, and St. Augustine's of Raleigh, N.C., 90--77. At happy S.P.C. the Tigers earlier won over the Carolinians, 108--92. The Tigers added other victories over Hampton Institute, 60--56; Howard University, 103--86 and 77--76; Morgan at Baltimore, 78--76; Virginia Union, 84--79; Virginia State, 100--92; Livingstone College, 85--57 and 95--88; Eastern Menonite of Harrisonburg, Va., 112--79; and New York Tech of Brooklyn, 96--85.

The Tigers have tallied a total of 1745 points against CIAA foes to 1553 by the conference opposition.

The Tigers have two of the starting five among the ranking scorers in the CIAA, freshman ace Mk. Green of New York City (20.6) and senior Captain Alton Darden of Courtland, Va. (18.2). They rank 11th and 17th, respectively, in the league. Green is one of the team's two best rebounders, along with Rogers Henry of Hopewell, Va.

Among the all-around stalwarts of Saint Paul's is Art Wynder of Brooklyn, who averages between 18 and 20 points per game. In the loss here to Delaware State he was the game's top scorer with 29 points. The first string includes Roy Gross of Washington, D.C., tenacious defender, good dribbler, and sound shooter. Malik Arbubakrr of Newark, N.J., is the "sixth man" of the Tigers.

Athletic Director Joseph E. Thompson and Coach Morris express faith in their team and believe the Tigers have a good chance to be among the eight teams chosen for the CIAA tournament at the Greensboro (N.C.) Memorial Stadium, February 27-March 1.

A LETTER OF CONGRATULATION--From the Junior Class

To: The Senior Class

We, the members of the Junior Class of Saint Paul's College wish to extend to you our wholehearted congratulations. We salute you for your tremendous effort and inspiration in producing this yearbook. We congratulate your class in general and your yearbook staff in particular.

May your future endeavors be as successful as your many triumphs here at Saint Paul's College. Perhaps, because of your great success, our class will be as outstanding as yours has been.

Again many best wishes, and much success.

Sincerely yours,
Eugene Parker
President of the Junior Class

EDITOR'S NOTES

Dear Reader:

Problems are always present; Yet, the individuals that can overcome their problems with a limited amount of wear and tear will be a success. With this thought in mind, the staff of this yearbook continued to produce despite many problems. Overcoming these problems was the result of hard work on the part of a few individuals. In particular, I would like to thank Phinnize Johnson, Edwina Burgess, Gale Johnson, June Hamlette, and Mr. Nathaniel Lipscomb, the Senior Class advisor.

There were several students that suggested, at the beginning of the year, that the yearbook be a student book. With this thought in mind, the yearbook staff arranged this book with a two-fold purpose: 1) To provide a memento to the graduates. 2) To provide a book which can be used in various high schools to acquaint their students with Saint Paul's College.

As I recapitulate the past four years, I am aware of the influence that the College has exerted on me and my fellow students. Therefore, My Prayer:

Our Father -- I am thankful for all my experiences during the past four years; I am thankful for all the joys and sorrows; I am also thankful for learning to live and work in harmony with others. I pray that Saint Paul's will continue to grow and that with its growth it will continue to direct Black youth and promote racial pride. Bless those that teach and those that learn.

AMEN, AMEN

TO OUR ADVISORS:

Mr . Nathaniel Lipscomb

Mrs . Francis Thurman

Mrs . Annie Harrison

I believe that now is the time for us to express what many in the class have said at various times during our years here . Though we have strayed from the path you have been there like a devoted shepherd to herd us along the road to achievement .

Each of us could recount instances when your wisdom has shown through or when we as the leaders of tomorrow have disagreed with you as advisors and doubted your wisdom, but I speak for the whole Senior Class when I say congratulations for a job well done because your sacrifices will never be forgotten .

Sincerely Yours,
The Graduating Class of 1969
